As a dedicated Systems Analysis student at the University of Buenos Aires, I am actively seeking internship opportunities to enhance my skill set and make my mark in the workforce. Having had the unique privilege of growing up in both Bermuda and the USA before returning to Argentina a decade ago, I possess fluency in both Spanish and English. My insatiable curiosity for technology has driven my passion for this field, and I also indulge in hobbies such as reading and playing chess. Eager to contribute my knowledge and enthusiasm to the IT industry, I am committed to continuous learning and professional growth.
